

La Belle Park, Florida, Is the Greatest Land Opportunity in America Today—We Can Prove It

The Caloosahatchee River Valley is the richest citrus fruit section in the world. Our lands are in the heart of this valley.

The soil is the most fertile in Florida.

It requires no draining, no irrigation, no clearing.

It is all high, open prairie free from timber and ready for the plow today.

Every acre of La Belle Park land is absolutely below the killing frost line—absolutely above the flood line.

The climate is perfect for producing three crops a year—each several weeks ahead of other early producing sections.

The Caloosahatchee River offers direct water transportation. This water competition guarantees low railway rates.

This and the fact that railroads are already building as rapidly as possible right towards this section assures a big and steady rise in values.

The greatest rush of settlers in the history of America is now directed towards this part of Florida.

We simply want the chance to prove these things to you. Send the attached coupon today for the facts and figures on La Belle Park. Go over these carefully—compare them with any other data on Florida or any other place.

COME TO THE LAND SHOW

Make our booth at the Coliseum your headquarters. Study the whole question for yourself—the closer the better. You can come to but one conclusion. La Belle Park offers you a real—a great opportunity. Don't fail to investigate it—take the first step now—clip out the coupon at once before you forget it. Send it today.
